The graph displays the annual number of deaths from HIV/AIDS in the United States. The y-axis represents the number of deaths, ranging from 0 to 40 in increments of 10. The x-axis represents the years from 1992 to 2016. The data shows a significant peak in 2000 (around 20 deaths), followed by a decline until 2004 (around 18 deaths), and then a steady increase through 2016 (around 32 deaths).

The graph displays the annual number of deaths from HIV/AIDS in the United States. The y-axis represents the number of deaths, ranging from 0 to 80 in increments of 20. The x-axis represents the years from 1992 to 2016, with labels every two years. The data points are connected by a line, showing a significant rise from the mid-1990s, peaking at approximately 42 deaths in 2004, followed by a steady decline to about 22 deaths by 2016.

The line graph illustrates the annual number of deaths from HIV/AIDS in the United States from 1992 to 2015. The y-axis represents the number of deaths, ranging from 0 to 12 in increments of 2. The x-axis represents the years from 1992 to 2015. The data shows a period of low mortality (1-2 deaths) from 1992 to 1996, followed by a significant spike to 5 deaths in 1997. After 1997, the number of deaths fluctuates between 4 and 6 until 2003, then rises sharply to 10 in 2004 and remains at that level through 2015.
